NOTES

The licence lasts for one year. Before the renewal date, Renfrewshire Council will write to you informing you that the licence is due to be renewed asking you to complete a licence renewal form and submit payment. Following this, an inspection will be carried out by a Council Officer and a vet and when the Officer is satisfied that the zoo meets the conditions, a new licence will be issued.

The local authority may request representations from the police authority, fire service authority, public objections and/or a national institution concerned with the operation of zoos in the UK (i.e. if aquatic zoo, go to an aquatic zoo specialist). Other person(s) whose representations might be relevant can also be consulted.

An inspection is carried out by a Secretary of State appointed inspector who will produce a report of his findings. Based on the report and other considerations the local authority will grant or refuse to grant a licence. If refused, the operator will receive a written statement of the grounds for refusal.

CONDITIONS OF LICENCE

The Zoo Licensing Act 1981 specifies conservation measures that must be undertaken by the zoo.

The licence will contain appropriate conditions with regard to these measures.

The Secretary of State issues model conditions for zoo licences.

The local authority also has discretion to attach any condition(s) deemed necessary or desirable for the proper conduct of the zoo.

The Secretary of State issues guidance of standards of practice that zoos should meet.

Copies of the Secretary of State's Standards of Modern Zoo Practice are available from the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs (DEFRA).
